FATAL FAMILY FEUD

Columbus, Ga., Neighbors Have Early Morning Duel.

ROCKS, PISTOL, RIFLE USED

Trouble Between Two Columbus, Ga., Families Resulted on Monday In Fatal Termination—Arrests Were Made.

Columbus, Ga., July 24. W. Chapman, aged 25, a [illegible] Henry G. Martin, a [illegible] a bullet hole in his [illegible] wound in his hand, and [illegible] Arthur Martin, is in jail charged with murder, the result of a duel at this place on Monday morning, in which rocks, a winchester rifle and a pistol were the weapons.

Chapman lived in a house adjoining the Martin's Boardwood mill of Columbus. There has been trouble between the two families and on Monday morning it came to a climax when a horse belonging to the Martins was left along the sidewalk in front of Chapman's house despite a request on his part that this practice be stopped.

Arthur Martin, a young man recently grown, threw a rock at Chapman, who was standing in his own yard. He dodged the rock and stooped to pick up one and as he did so the elder Martin, who was but a few feet away, fired at him with a winchester rifle, the ball missing. However, Chapman fired at the older Martin with his pistol five times, two of the bullets taking effect and inflicting serious but probably not fatal injuries.

Chapman ran into his house, reloaded his pistol and started into the street, his weapon in hand. As he was going through the gate there was a crack of a rifle, fired from the doorway of Martin's store, and Chapman fell to the ground dead in the sight of his wife, whom he married only last March. The ball struck him near the eye, ranging upward into the brain.

It was claimed that young Martin fired the fatal shot and he was placed under arrest.

The defense will be, it is understood, that the elder Martin fired the shot. Mrs. Chapman says that she heard the report of a rifle and turned to see young Martin in the doorway of the store with his smoking gun in hand.

BRAVE CAPTAIN DORAN.

Harriman Eulogizes Commander Who Went Down With His Ship.

New York, July 24.—E. H. Harriman, president of the Union & Southern Pacific road, speaking of Captain P. A. Doran, the commander of the steamer Columbia, which went down off the Pacific coat with nearly three scores of lives, said that the death of Captain Doran was a personal bereavement to him and his family.

Captain Doran, he said, was a brave man, and a capable commander.

Captain Doran was in command of the steamer George W. Elder, which carried Mr. Harriman, his family and a party of nearly forty scientists, artists and expert explorers on a tour of Alaskan waters in 1899. He handled the Elder through the tortuous Alaskan channels with such skill as to win the unqualified admiration of Mr. Harriman. The two men became warm friends on the trip and Mr. Harriman had Captain Doran come to New York for a visit. He entertained him in various ways.

HIS DELEGATES UNDESIRABLE.

Pat Calhoun Denounces Act of Industrial Peace Conference.

San Francisco, July 24—.The industrial peace conference which held its first session in Christian Science hall Monday, has sent a letter to Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, asking him to withdraw his delegates from the conference.

The letter stated that while not wishing to pass judgment upon any one indicted or accused in court, it was feared that the presence of the delegates of the United Railroads would disrupt the harmony of the conference and that the convention could not recognize any one who stands accused of crime.

Calhoun sent a lengthy reply, in which he denounced the request for his withdrawal a cowardly act and made for political purposes. He said, however, that he would not appear at the conference.

Millionaire Barbour Wanted Large Boulder for Monument.

Morristown, N. J., July 24.—A granite boulder, weighing one hundred tons, has been taken from Cranberry lake and placed in the family plot of Colonel William D. Barbour in the Patterson cemetery.

Fifty years ago Colonel Barbour sat upon the rock while on his way from Dover to Newton. He had just come in this country a poor boy, and was obliged to walk to Sussex county. The colonel, who is now a millionaire, rested with delight of the time he sat on the boulder. It was noontime and he stopped to sit on the rock to eat a frugal luncheon. The thought then occurred to him that the stone would make a beautiful monument, and he declared then that if he ever got money enough he would have it.

The cost of the stone and its removal to the cemetery is over $10,000.

WARNER RAN AMUCK

Kills Young Woman and Shoots at Other Persons.

WAS CHASED BY POLICEMEN

Rushed into Building and Escaped by the Aid of a Fire Escape—Twenty Policemen Joined in Hot Pursuit of the Fugitive.

New York, July 24.—Miss Esther Norling, a young woman, was shot and almost instantly killed Tuesday, it is alleged, by Charles Warner, her former employer, as she was entering a haberdasher's store on West Forty-second street, where she was employed as a bookkeeper.

Warner, it is charged by the police, fired several shots at A. A. Spicer, the manager of the store, while effecting his escape.

Warner fled to the sporting goods store of A. G. Spalding & Co., and although twenty policemen surrounded the building and searched it thoroughly, no trace of Warner could be found.

The police believe that Warner was unbalanced by business reverses and other troubles.

Miss Norling is about 23 years of age ,and lived at Ridgefield Park, New Jersey.

Shortly after Miss Norling reached her place of employment, a man came to the store and fired a shot at the young woman. Miss Norling half reeled and looking at the man who fired the shot, cried:

"Its Charley Warner; he's hit me."

Warner, Spicer says, then fired two shots at him, missing him.. Going out, Warner started along Forty-second street, which was crowded with people going to work.

A messenger boy seeing Warner running with a revolver, threw a brick at the fleeing man. The brick hit Warner in the back. Angered, Warner turned and fired at the messenger boy. His aim was wild. Warner then sped up the street to the Spalding establishment.

Policemen attracted by the shooting, surrounded the building and Patrolman Walsh, seeing Warner fleeing up the winding stairway to the second floor, darted after him.

Walsh's foot slipped on the bottom step and while he was recovering Warner turned and fired at the policeman. His aim was bad. Warner went to an empty office room in the rear of the second story, stepped out on the fire escape, by which he reached ground. He walked to the rear of a building in West Forty-third street and passed through the basement to the street. That was the last seen of him.

TREASURE SHIP IS RECENTLY FOUND

Parties Discover Old Wreck With Valuable Metal in Hold

ON THE BEACH NEAR MIAMI

Specimen of the Substance is Taken to Miami for Analysis — People Digging the Wreck in Search for Treasure.

(Miami Metropolis, July 22.)

Have the people of Ojus and vicinity discovered a treasure ship? Such is the opinion of a number of those who are today engaged in digging in the hold of a hulk found a short distance from the shore off that place.

How long the wreck has been there no one now living at Ojus knows. It has been there for years, though just recently discovered. The hull is of iron or steel and lays only a few feet below the surface of the water. It lies from them one hundred feet from the shore in the surf and laden with some substance which is now being investigated.

County Commissioner R. L. Wall, one of the parties interested in the wreck and what it contains, is in the city today exhibiting specimens of the substance found in the hold of the vessel. It is of a bronze formation, mottled with a bright or yellowish substance very much the same as is found in copper or gold quartz, and it is for the purpose of having it analyzed that Mr. Wall came to the city.

Mr. Wall stated that a number of the residents of Ojus are taking a hand in the examination of the hull, and are today hunting in the submerged in the hold—treasure hunting, so to term, and the result of their labors will be awaited with interest.

To the Teachers and School Officers of Florida:

For fourteen years I have given freely of my time in an effort to maintain a creditable school journal for the teachers of Florida. This has been with me entirely a labor of love; for while The Exponent has always paid the actual expense of publication, the time and labor put upon it have been my contribution to the cause of education—cheerfully given, it is true, but none the less a considerable burden for all that.

Among the four thousand teachers and school officers of Florida, it seems to me there ought to be found enough educational interest and State pride to support liberally a creditable educational journal. While The Exponent is accorded by the educational press of America a place among the leading educational journals of the country, and is today the most widely quoted educational periodical published, it is by no means what I think it ought to be, and what I could make it with a more liberal support. I am willing to put into its maintenance and improvement every dollar it brings in, but I cannot promise to do more. Will you not, teachers and school officers of Florida, come to my assistance and help me to give to our State and its teachers such a school journal as they deserve? Let me hear from you with subscriptions and words of encouragement.

Sincerely yours,
TOM F. M'BEATH, Editor.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

The Atlantic Coast Line Offering Some Attractive Rates.

The Jamestown Exposition, like all other expositions when they first open, has not the buildings all completed, nor all the exhibits in good shape. This exposition will be kept open, and by referring to the advertisement carried in this paper you will note attractive rates, and time limits to suit the vacations of anyone.

Realizing and appreciating that one day in the week, namely Tuesday, was the only day on which coach excursion tickets could be purchased, the Atlantic Coast Line has instructed all their ticket agents that the coach excursion rates will be in effect on Friday as well as Tuesday, thus making two days in the week that people who do not feel like going to the extra expense of buying sleeper berths, but want to take a trip off for an outing, can avail themselves of this very reduced rate, which is about one cent a mile for distance traveled or $14.05 for the round trip from Jacksonville, with correspondingly low rates from all other points.

The rate named above is a very low one and is one which a great many people are availing themselves of, taking advantage of the two days fixed for the coach excursion rates, one day at the first of the week and one day at the last of the week.

By consulting your nearest railroad agent he will quote you rates through, not only for the coach excursion, which is particularly referred to in this writing, but any additional limit of tickets.

If you cannot see the agent personally by dropping a card or letter to Frank C. Boyiston, district passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line at Jacksonville, Florida, you will be furnished with rates direct, to any point desired, and to the exposition with any kind of a limit of ticket.

PRISONER SET FIRE TO THE CITY JAIL

Charged With Setting Fire to the Houses in Frog Alley.

HUGHES AN OLD OFFENDER

Similar Action in Jacksonville Caused Death of Fellow Prisoner—Sent to Asylum But Returned to Gainesville.

John Hughes, a negro painter well known in Gainesville, having been reared here, was arrested Tuesday on suspicion of having set fire to the houses destroyed by fire in Frog Alley last Monday morning.

Hughes was incarcerated in the callaboose, and Tuesday night Officer Kite was notified that the prisoner had set fire to the city prison. Before the officer reached the jail, however, Hughes, through the means of a bottle of water which had been left with him, subdued the flames.

He was arraigned before Justice Colman yesterday, but owing to the fact that the prisoner had himself put out the fire the charge of incendiarvism could not be sustained, and he was discharged.

An Old Offender.

It is the general opinion that he could not escape by means of burning a hole through the wall of the jail and became alarmed and extinguished the flames. He set fire to his cell while in prison in Jacksonville some years ago and a fellow prisoner was so badly burned that he died. Hughes was sent to the asylum after this, but finally returned to Gainesville. He is not regarded as a sane person and should not be permitted to run at large.

Ben Mixson, an old Gainesville boy, returned yesterday to Lake Butler, after a pleasant visit to his parents in this city. Ben is looking well and his friends were glad to see him.

Engineer Andrews died in Waldo yesterday after an illness of only a few days. This sad death will be quite a shock to his many friends, as he was a large, portly man and looked the picture of health.

D. M. Davidson, proprietor of the Troy Hotel at High Springs, has made many improvements in the hotel. He has recently had all the rooms repapered and new beds put up. In all the house has been completely refurnished.

Col. H. S. Chubb has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended the grand convention of the Elks. Colonel Chubb says there is no order like the Elks on the face of the globe. He also visited Washington and New York while away.

A letter received from J. C. Evans just before he left New York for England bears the information that if nothing happens he will reach England today. He reported a fine trip to New York and was glad that he had had a pleasant time across the ocean.

N [illegible] the Marcus Eagle [illegible] court house has just completed the [illegible] for the Citizens National [illegible] now has carpenters engaged [illegible] the second floor. When the work is completed there will be no better offices in the city. Mr. Shands believes in having everything up to date.

The Gainesville Tinning and Plumbing Co. are busy finishing up the plumbing on the H. F. Hampton cottages. They are also engaged on plumbing work for T. W. Shands. Mr. Cardy, manager of the company, says that they are busy, yet want more. If he gets more than they can do with the present force he knows where to get other first-class plumbers.

L. C. Conklin, assistant cashier and bookkeeper at the Phifer Bros. bank, has tendered his resignation to take effect on the 15th of August. Mr. Conklin severs his connection with the bank to accept a position with the American Fidelity Co. so that he can obtain more outside work. He has been with the Phifer bank ever since it was opened and has had full control of the opening of all the books of the bank. Messrs. Phifer Bros. are sorry to see him leave.

Wreck on Seaboard at Hampton.

There was a wreck on the Seaboard Air Line at Hampton yesterday which delayed the noon train several hours. A freight train was wrecked and blocked the main track so that the noon train for Tampa had to go via Hampton to Sampson city and then take the Jacksonville and Tampa track to Gainesville, from which it returned to Waldo and continued its regular route. All stations were made, but the train was delayed about two hours. There was no one hurt in the wreck, however, and in a few hours the track was cleared and the Jacksonville-Cedar Key train came through on time.

WEEDS AGAIN.

The Florida Health Notes says: "About a year ago The Notes made some remarks of weeds. It stressed the fact that weeds should be destroyed for hygienic purposes. It defended itself against the charge of breeding mosquitoes and committing other crimes against the public health. It charged them with being eye-sores and contributing to the general unsightliness of a city.

"Attention was taken to the attitude which The Notes toward weeds. And for the reason we beg to quote the following from the last annual report of the Department of Health of Washington, D. C.:

"'The substantial enforcement of the weed law as it now stands would involve the expenditure of a large amount of money each year, and, so far as the health department can discover, would be no corresponding gain in improved public health. There would be a great gain in the appearance of the city, but it is questionable whether, for such improvement in beauty alone, the district can afford to pay the price just now.

"'Probably if weeds are not injurious though they may be permitted to grow to a height of 15 or 20 inches without doing harm. In undertaking to determine whether weeds are or are not detrimental to health it is necessary to bear in mind that weeds do not differ originally from plants classed as vegetables, flowers, etc. If, therefore, vacant lots overgrown with weeds are detrimental to the public health, places planted with vegetables, flowers, etc., must be regarded as equally bad. But I have never heard it claimed that gardens, farms, and parks are detrimental to public health. The question hinges, not on the kind of vegetation, but on the excessive growth of the overgrowth. Vegetation is not of such a character and so arranged as to result in the accumulation of stagnant water, and it may thus be responsible for the breeding of mosquitoes. Such conditions are, however, more directly attributed to the negligent voting them to the vegetation, and are better corrected by proper grading and drainage than by removal from time to time of the vegetable growth. * * *

"It is claimed by some that weeds of certain kinds give rise to hay fever. This, however, has not been substantiated, and the same objection have been raised against some flowers and vegetables, notably roses and corn. In any event, however, it must be admitted that if such a result follows at all it is due to idiosyncrasy on the part of the rare individual rather than to any relation existing between weeds and the human species generally. The decay of vegetation in the fall is popularly believed to be detrimental to health, but in view of the slowness of the process the gases generated by decay are hardly present in the atmosphere at any one time in quantities sufficient to work injury. The gases themselves probably possess no specifically poisonous properties. After a careful consideration of the entire subject I find no reason for believing that vacant lots overgrown with weeds are materially detrimental to public health."

A man ought not to dread the difficulties that confront him for it gives him a chance to show his metal.

BLACK SOLDIERS IN DISFAVOR.

There has been such a revival of race prejudice in this country of late that no movement of negro troops takes place without protests from the people among whom they are to be quartered.

When it is considered that we have had negro regiments for more than a generation and that no one has made serious objection to them until recently, it will have to be admitted that no great progress has been made in settling the problem which brought this organization into existence.

Colored troops have given a good account of themselves under many trying circumstances. They have marched and fought well in the deserts of the Southwest, in the rugged mountains of the North, in Cuba and in the Philippines. It is only in time of peace, when the social factor seems to be taken into account, that they are looked upon with disfavor.

All this may be natural and inevitable, but if we are to have black regiments in war we must have them in peace, and make the best of them.—New York World.

This shows that the tension between the races is growing stronger. Just after the close of the Civil war there were a number of negro regiments stationed in this State, and in one place we remember when they were about to be removed, the merchants got up a petition asking that they be allowed to remain. But in no town in the South would their presence be wanted now on any consideration, and the same sentiment is manifesting itself in the North, as is shown by the recent protest that has gone up from the citizens of Watertown, N. Y.

The negro is not conducting himself in freedom as those who fought for his emancipation had fondly dreamed.

When he was a slave he was looked upon as a protection, now he is regarded as a menace.—Ocala Banner.

The Alachua Post charges the county commissioners with discriminating against the county in favor of Gainesville in constructing hard roads. The commissioners have done nothing of the kind, and The Post cannot substantiate any such charge. Four members of the board are from the country districts to only one from Gainesville, and they have worked together in harmony for the best interests of the entire county. A large proportion of the work done on roads leading from this city has been done by private subscription, as has also been the case in the Micanopy district, and if other sections of the county would follow the example of these two districts they would be better off. Owing to the lack of funds in the past, it has been the policy of the commissioners to help those sections where the people would lend financial aid to construct hard roads, but now that the road fund is in better shape, thanks to the last Legislature, the commissioners will push the work of constructing hard roads just as rapidly as they possibly can, all sections being treated alike as best tends to promote the public interest. The proximity of suitable material has to be taken into consideration in constructing hard roads, as it would be the heighth of folly to commence the construction of a road miles away from where the material is to be had and work towards the base of supply, instead of from such base. Such waste of time and money might serve to pacify a few individuals, but the commissioners wisely consider it their duty to act for the best interests of the whole people, not to humor a few disgruntled persons.

The eternal "kicker" is the one man that any community can well do without.

FROM THE PAGES OF FLORIDA PAPERS.

Enough to Give One the Jimjams.

Everyone who has ridden on a railroad has seen how furiously the country flies past when one is passing train. He knows that it is only the impression of motion that has often been asked: "What would the dog do if it were not for its tail?"

We are reminded of this incident by the conspiracy Mr. Peter O. Knight was concocted to catch him. If the conspirators had caught him, then what?

Would it have put Peter O. Knight in virtual control of the Legislature? Would Governor Broward have lost his nerve and capitulated?

What great and ugly things did "Little Peter" have up his sleeve, and what would have happened?

This thing of guessing and conjecturing is enough to give one the jimjams.—Ocala Banner.

Mallory the Man.

The Manatee Record observes that "Senator Mallory doesn't seem to be worried much about his seat in the Senate. He continues to saw wood while the boys do the wind work."

Senator Mallory is not given to worrying, and he knows that in his two terms as Senator he has zealously done his duty, as he always has done in public life, without any hooray, or brass bands or press agents, relying on his work for his record and, perhaps, a little too much, on the public knowing what he does for the State.

There is about him a certain reserve that prevents him from going out of the way to proclaim his services. It has often been said of him that this is bad politics. Perhaps so, but it gives him that much more time for his duties, and in his case, at least, has made him that much more valuable to the people, whom he trusts because he has served them always with an eye single to their welfare, however powerful the enemies he has made or may make.

In the State Legislature, in Congress and in the United States Senate he has uniformly proved himself not only a valuable servant, but one of the highest type that a republic can produce. He is equally incapable of subterfuge or truckling, to high or low, to private or public, and the success that has been his in public life has been, to an extent, true of very few men, due to his splendid ability and his exceptional integrity.—Pensacola Journal.

Lumbermen in the United States are cutting four times as much lumber each year from the forests of the country as nature is supplying. The average American uses some 400 feet of lumber each year, as against but sixty feet used by his European neighbors. Lumber prices are just twice as high as they were in 1900, and the tendency is still upward. Men in the lumber business are beginning to look at the problem seriously. The Federal forest reserves as recently increased by President Roosevelt comprise an area greater than the total area of the Republic of France or the German empire in Europe, each supplemented by the Netherlands; but even with these precautions the most careful and conservative estimates show that the lumber supply will be practically exhausted in from thirty to forty years.

Result of Strenuous Work During Campaign for Re-Election.

HAD VERY HARD FIGHT

But Won Out After One of the Most Exciting Contests Ever Witnessed in Deep Water City—Was Very Aggressive.

Pensacola, Fla., July 24.—Charles H. Bliss, mayor of Pensacola, died at 3 o'clock this morning.

Mayor Bliss was re-elected last month, after one of the most exciting municipal campaigns in the history of the city. His work in the contest caused a physical breakdown that resulted in a complication of diseases, from which he could not recover. The funeral will take place on next Friday.

Mayor Bliss during his first administration proved to be an admirable chief executive. His aggressiveness and his strenuous advocacy of certain reforms caused him to incur the enmity of certain people, but all agree that he worked for what he conceived to be to the best interests of the city.

JUDGE COLMAN'S COURT.

I. H. McLendon Charges Henry McCoy With Larceny.

I. H. McLendon had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of one Henry McCoy for taking some old clothes from his house. It seems as though Henry had been rooming with McLeadon and working for him also. There arose some dispute about a settlement and McCoy was told to leave the house. It developed in court that McCoy had carried some clothes away with him that belonged to "Chief" McLendon. Chief had him arrested, but the defendant stated that he had returned the clothes to McLendon, as they had only been taken through mistake. Both sides had a good story, but after putting the evidence together the Judge decided that there was no evidence to convict McCoy of larceny, as he admitted that he carried the clothes away, but said it was through a mistake and returned them.

[illegible] Cough Syrup [illegible] Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with quickness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon ill-feebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores or ulcers.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Favorable Reports Are Made Upon Several Measures.

Atlanta, July 24.—Solicitors general of the several superior courts of the state will receive an annual salary of $2,650, instead of fees, which and from $5,000 to $20,000, according to the wealth of the circuit, if the report of the special judiciary committee of the house made Monday is enacted into a law.

This was brought about by the favorable report given the three companion bills which were introduced by Mr. McMichael of Marion, whereby this change is to be wrought.

Solicitor's Salaries

Of this sum it is stipulated that each solicitor is to continue to receive the annual salary of $250 a year now allowed him by the state, and in addition is to receive $2,400 a year added salary, and no fees of perquisites.

Mr. McMichael appeared before this special judiciary committee and made a strong argument in support of his bills. An effort was made to put the bills in the hands of a subcommittee for a report, but this was voted down and a favorable action taken upon the measure.

General Judiciary Committee.

Three very important general measures were favorably reported by the general judiciary committee Monday, Mr. Mundy of Polk presiding. These were: To fix a penalty of $50 upon telegraph companies for failing to observe the proper diligence in the delivery of telegrams; to prohibit the charging, collecting or suit for more than 8 per cent a month on any loan, and to allow for the recovery of expenses attendant upon a homicide.

Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

If the wishes of the house committee on hygiene and sanitation are adhered to, there will be a state sanitarium for indigent consumptives erected in a very short while.

Monday the committee reported favorably the bill by Mr. Prior of Ware proposing the establishment of such an institute.

The committee on general education reported adversely the bill by Mr. Colbeck of Gordon, which prohibited white teachers from being employed in negro schools or negro teachers from being employed in the white schools.

Senate Committees.

The general judiciary committee of the senate held a short session Monday morning, and recommended favorably two bills introduced by Senator Farmer. The one providing for the oath to be administered to tax arbitrators, and authorizing the comptroller general to secure arbitrators from citizens who were not members of the railroad commission.

The senate appropriation committee met also, and considered the bill relative to increasing the tax on fertilizers, but postponed action.

ARMENIAN ASSASSINATED.

He Refused to Subscribe Money to Revolutionary Fund.

Chicago, July 24.—Hovhanes S. Tavshanjian, the wealthy Armenian who was assassinated at New York Monday, was well known in the Oriental rug market. It is taken as a settled fact that the killing was the result of his refusal to answer a demand for a large revolutionary fund subscription.

Local Armenians do not believe, however, that the victim's activity in running down the murderers of the Rev. Father Kasper of West Pullman, whose body was found in a trunk, had anything to do with his murder. They believe that he was killed simply because he refused to contribute to the cause of the revolutionists.

REACHED ACUTE STAGE.

Montgomery, Ala., July 24.—The fight in the legislature for a child labor bill has reached the acute stage.

Governor Comer, who is one of the largest cotton mill owners in the south, has not encouraged the passage of a new law for fear of radical and hurtful action, and the legislature, being very much under his control, has left it alone. However, a bill is now up which makes the age minimum for girls 14 years and boys 12. Night inspection is to be provided, and inspectors will have the right to put children out of the mills who seem to be under age. There must, according to the bill, be three months of school each year for every child in the mill, none under 16 are to work at night, and those over that to 18 years of age, not more than eight hours a night. The hours limit is set at 56 hours a week. So far as can be learned, the governor will approve the bill.

A GOOD FISH STORY.

Red "D" Line Steamer Captures a Mammoth Mero.

New York, July 24.—Officers and passengers of the Red "D" line steamer Zulia, just in from southern waters, brought to port a good fish story. It was while the steamer was crossing the bar at Toblao, near Maracaibo, and in a narrow channel that the fish, a huge mero, was caught. The steamer struck the fish, and, according to a passenger, "the steamer careened to starboard from the force of the blow."

For a few minutes Captain Bennett, of the Zulia, thought the pilot had made a mistake and bumped into the mud shoal water, but investigation revealed a big dead fish, the mero having been killed in the collision with the steamer.

The mero is good to eat, so the prize was turned over to the captain of a Venezuelan sloop, who towed it to San Carlos. The mero measures 26 feet in length, 14 feet in circumference, and weighed about 1,200 pounds.

On his arrival a temporary market was established and the fish sold at 20 cents, Venezuelan money, a slice. Some idea of the size of the fish may be formed when it is said that the whole population of San Carlos, 600 all told, dined sumptuously on mero that day. According to Director Spencer of the Aquarium, the mero is a food fish allied to the grouper, and called by the Spaniards mero de Loalty. It attains a great size, and is found in southern waters, sometimes off the coast of Florida.

"No, sweetheart, I won't. You have not money enough to make one enjoyable," she answered practically.—Life.

HOW BONNER WON SUCCESS

The career of Robert Bonner, the veteran publisher, furnishes a signal illustration of the value of persistent and sagacious advertising. When he began the publication of the paper whose phenomenal success brought him fame and fortune, he did not wait for the people to find out, slowly and gradually, the interesting features of his journal.

He forced his enterprise upon public attention by a systematic lavishness of expenditure for advertising which at that time was without precedent or parallel. Whole pages of daily newspapers were secured at high prices to blazon forth the merits of his undertaking.

From one end of the country to the other the names of Bonner and his Ledger were made familiar to the people by constant repetition.

Conservative publishers, jogging along in the ruts of old routine, prophesied bankruptcy and ruin for this unconventional innovator, but Bonner kept on spending a large share of his receipts in buying publicity, and those receipts increased with startling rapidity.

Every dollar disbursed in this way brought in more dollars until croakers were confounded and pessimists in this particular branch of business silenced by his tremendous success.

The lesson is one that is as well worth heeding today as it was forty years ago.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Large space in this paper is one of the best investments a merchant can make.

Gainesville, Fla.

HE HAD HIS DOSE.

An Incident of the Terrible Battle of Montmirail.

In February, 1814, the French army made a heroic stand against the allied forces of Europe, and in one week retrieved for a short but glorious period its lost prestige. Though composed largely of half raw recruits, it engaged from the very center of 250,000 foes, attacked an army of 70,000 men, won 6 battles and captured 68 cannon, 5 generals and 28,000 prisoners!

After the terrible fight at Montmirail Major Bancel, staff surgeon to the guard, was attending the wounded as well as he could, close behind the columns still engaged. Looking up from one unfortunate man whose wounds he was dressing, he perceived within a short distance an old mounted chasseur of the guard, who was tranquilly smoking his pipe and watching the surgeon.

Bancel did not at first pay any attention to him. By and by he noticed the man again, still in the same posture, tranquilly smoking his pipe.

"What are you doing there?" cried the surgeon.

"Smoking," answered the man. "Does the major forbid me to smoke?"

"What!" returned the officer. "Aren't you ashamed to be loafing around here while your comrades are covering themselves with glory?"

The chasseur blew out a cloud of smoke and, driving his right spur into his steed, made him execute a half turn. Then he said, taking his pipe out of his mouth:

"Look, major. Don't you think I have got my dose as it is? Can I do anything more?"

The major looked. The chasseur's leg was shot off half way between the knee and the ankle, so that his left foot was hanging and dangling against his horse. The veteran's question required no answer. But it may be surmised what care and attention the surgeon lavished on the imperturbable chasseur.

LINCOLN'S GROCERY.

Result of One Partner's Hunger and the Other Partner's Thirst.

A giant in stature, he was as awkward as he was strong. His rustic appearance was enhanced by an ill fitting suit of homespun. Thus at the head of the ox team he made his debut in the outer world, without means, without education, without influence. This may seem a sorry beginning, but let it be remembered that if on that day he had graduated from Harvard in a fashionable coat the gates of history would probably have been closed against him.

Mr. Lincoln's first business venture resulted in downright failure. He formed a partnership with one Berry, under the firm name of Berry & Lincoln, to carry on a grocery, for the purchase price of which the firm note was given. Berry was a jolly, irresponsible soul, who was born thirsty and who gave his undivided attention to that part of the stock known as "wet groceries." Mr. Lincoln, on the other hand, having a keen appetite, devoted himself to the crackers and cheese, smoked herrings and other edibles at the dry end of the shop. This happy adjustment rivaled the familiar case of Jack Sprat and his congenial spouse, but the meager stock could not long withstand the inroads of hunger at the one end and thirst at the other, and a crisis came which required the sale of the remnant of stock. The purchaser defaulted, and Mr. Lincoln was left to pay all the liabilities—a task which plagued him for several years. Thereby he had impressed upon him a legal proposition that a partner is liable in solido.

It is related that Mr. Lincoln bought a barrel of a customer, in the bottom of which, among other rubbish, was found a copy of "Blackstone's Commentaries." This was a great find for the law student, but as the book there after engrossed his attention the grocery business collapsed. Thus ended the first lesson.—J. V. Quarles in Putnam's.

The Queer Parson Bird.

A queer bird is the poe honey eater of New Zealand. Its throat is adorned with small white feathers, which, from their resemblance to clerical bands, have gained for it the name "parson bird." Its metallic green plumage, with bronze and purplish reflections, is very beautiful. Its long and rather slender beak is curved. It has rather large feet, and the length of its tail is considerable. This bird is plentiful on both the north and south islands of New Zealand. It is a good songster and mimic, and its lively temperament renders it a most interesting cage bird. Its food consists of berries, insects and honey. It has an extensile tongue, the tip of which is forked and, being covered with fibers, forms a kind of brush, most useful to the parson bird in gathering its food.

The Human Brain.

The human brain has not steadily increased since paleolithic times, and as Professor Lankester tells us, by way of concrete illustration, the brain of Isaac Newton was not much larger than that of an Australian black.—London Outlook.

FATAL FAMILY FEUD

Columbus, Ga., Neighbors Have Early Morning Duel.

ROCKS, PISTOL, RIFLE USED

Trouble Between Two Columbus, Ga., Families Resulted on Monday In Fatal Termination—Arrests Were Made.

Columbus, Ga., July 24.—Will Chapman, aged 25, a painter, is dead; Henry G. Martin, a merchant, has a bullet hole in his shoulder and a wound in his hand, and his son, Arthur Martin, is in jail charged with murder, the result of a duel at this place on Monday morning, in which rocks, a winchester rifle and a pistol were the weapons.

Chapman lived in a house adjoining the Martins in Beallwood, north of Columbus. There has been trouble between the two families and on Monday morning it came to a climax when a horse belonging to the Martins was led along the sidewalk in front of Chapman's house, despite the request on his part that this practice be stopped.

Arthur Martin, a young man nearly grown, threw a rock at Chapman, who was standing in his own yard. He dodged the rock and stooped to pick up one and as he did so the elder Martin, who was but a few feet away, fired at him with a winchester rifle, the ball missing. However, Chapman fired at the elder Martin with his pistol five times, two of the bullets taking effect and inflicting serious but probably not fatal injuries.

Chapman ran into his house, reloaded his pistol and started into the street, his weapon in hand. As he was going through the gate there was a crack of a rifle, fired from the doorway of Martin's store, and Chapman fell to the ground dead in the sight of his wife, whom he married only last March. The ball struck him near the eye, ranging upward into the brain.

It was claimed that young Martin fired the fatal shot and he was placed under arrest.

The defense will be, it is understood, that the elder Martin fired the shot. Mrs. Chapman says that she heard the report of a rifle and turned to see young Martin in the doorway of the store with his smoking gun in hand.

BRAVE CAPTAIN DORAN.

Harriman Eulogizes Commander Who Went Down With His Ship.

New York, July 24.—E. H. Harriman, president of the Union & Southern Pacific road, speaking of Captain P. A. Doran, the commander of the steamer Columbia, which went down off the Pacific coat with nearly three scores of lives, said that the death of Captain Doran was a personal bereavement to him and his family.

Captain Doran, he said, was a brave man, and a capable commander.

Captain Doran was in command of the steamer George W. Elder, which carried Mr. Harriman, his family and a party of nearly forty scientists, artists and expert explorers on a tour of Alaskan waters in 1899. He handled the Elder through the tortuous Alaskan channels with such skill as to win the unqualified admiration of Mr. Harriman. The two men became warm friends on the trip and Mr. Harriman had Captain Doran come to New York for a visit. He entertained him in various ways.

Tokio, July 24—The elder statesmen held a council Tuesday and it is believed that the Korean question was the subject of their deliberation. The reply of the new Korean emperor to the emperor of Japan, congratulating him on his accession to the throne, expresses a sincere hope of a growing friendship between both courts and governments.

HIS DELEGATES UNDESIRABLE.

Pat Calhoun Denounces Act of Industrial Peace Conference.

San Francisco, July 24—.The industrial peace conference which held its first session in Christian Science hall Monday, has sent a letter to Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, asking him to withdraw his delegates from the conference.

The letter stated that while not wishing to pass judgment upon any one indicted or accused in court, it was feared that the presence of the delegates of the United Railroads would disrupt the harmony of the conference and that the convention could not recognize any one who stands accused of crime.

Calhoun sent a lengthy reply, in which he denounced the request for his withdrawal a cowardly act and made for political purposes. He said, however, that he would not appear at the conference.

MARK TWAIN A VICTIM.

Comes from Abroad Detovted Slave of a Little American Girl.

New York, July 24.—After hobnobbing with King Edward, made the recipient of a degree by Oxford university and having been dined and otherwise petted by notabilities of all kinds on John Bull's island, Mark Twain came back the happy and devoted slave of a little American girl.

The small maiden is Dorothy Quick, daughter of Mrs. E. G. Quick, of Brooklyn. She and the shaggy-haired humorist and philosopher had never met before the latter boarded the liner Minnetonka at Tilbury docks, London, but once they did meet, they became inseparable shipmates.

Miss Quick has rich brown hair, blue eyes, a peach-and-cream complexion and a merry laugh and these proved irresistible to Mark Twain for nine days, which was the time the voyage lasted.

"How old are you Mark?" she asked him one night as they stood arm in arm, looking at the moonlit ocean.

"Well," drawled the fun-maker, "the last time I was weighed I was seventy-four. How old are you?"

"I'm eleven, going on twelve," she answered proudly, "and I'm in the fourth reader."

"My goodness!" replied her friend, "but you are a big, wise girl."

The colonel, who is now a millionaire, tells with delight of the time he sat on the boulder. It was noontime and he stopped to sit on the rock to eat a frugal luncheon. The thought then occurred to him that the stone would make a beautiful monument, and he declared then that if he ever got money enough he would have it.

The cost of the stone and its removal to the cemetery is over $10,000.

FIRE-BUGS ARE WORKING HERE

Three Houses Were Set Simultaneously Early Monday Morning.

TWO WERE COMPLETE LOSS

DeBose Bros. Lost Their Store and Stock, While Another House Occupied by Colored Woman Had Furniture Burned—A Heavy Loss.

There is a fire-bug existing in Gainesville, and he got in his work at 1:30 o'clock Monday morning, when three houses were set simultaneously, two of which were burned almost to the ground, as the department was taxed to its utmost capacity in handling the situation.

The first house apparently set was a house owned and occupied by Dr. R. B. Ayer, North Garden street. Dr. Ayer was absent, but his housekeeper noticed the flame when it was not much larger than a man's hat, and, with presence of mind, secured a bucket of water and extinguished it. She saw the shadow of a man in the yard and fired, but the shots never took effect.

At 1:30 o'clock Monday morning an alarm of fire was turned in from box 34, and almost instantly flames were leaping from the store of DeBose Bros., colored, and a house owned by Rev. Pearl Daniel of Tampa and occupied by Cora Smith, the former on North Pleasant and the latter on North Garden street.

The department responded promptly, but for a time was unable to cope with the situation. Streams were turned on both buildings after a time, however, and the flames were under control in a few moments, although the contents of the places were badly damaged.

DeBose Bros., who are among the most progressive of the colored merchants, who control a good trade among both white and colored in that section, carried a stock of groceries and notions ranging from $800 to $1,000. The stock was insured for $500. The building, a one-story structure, was owned by T. E. DeBose, and was insured for $200.

The residence owned by Rev. Daniel was a one-story four-room structure, insured at about $400. The owner and tenant are both absent from the city, and it was not ascertained whether or not there was any insurance. The building was a total loss, with the exception of the foundation. In speaking of the matter Monday morning one of the DeBose boys stated that he was positive of the guilty party who set the places on fire, but that he was in no position to offer evidence. Detectives are at work on the case, however, and something may develop within the next few days.

The offense of arson is a serious one, and the guilty party should be apprehended and punished, as no home is safe with fire-bugs thus at large in the vicinity.

DeBose Bros. will at once make preparations to reopen their business, hoping to be ready to accommodate their patrons temporarily by Saturday.

A Beautiful Incident.

At the burial of Mr. Jones last Monday afternoon, when the white pigeon which was let down in the grave with the coffin was freed, instead of circling around and flying off as they usually do, it lit on the top of the bridge in which Mrs. Jones sat, remaining directly over Mrs. Jones until the ceremony was over. It then flew to a little dead limb over the grave, where it remained until the grave was covered and the crowd broke up. It seemed to personify a heavenly dove.

SEIGLER STOCK SOLD.

Stock of General Merchandise Knocked Down to Administratrix.

Attorney J. M. Rvers made a trip to Waldo Monday, where he assumed the position of an auctioneer.

Col. Rivers went to auction off the stock of general merchandise of the estate of W. D. Seigler, deceased, and proved himself quite efficient in this direction. He had many bidders, and carried himself with the dignity belonging to a regularly licensed auctioneer, and on the side some of his friends good-naturedly suggested that he had "missed his calling" when it came to choosing a profession.

The stock was finally bought in by the administratrix, the widow of deceased, the price being $2,950. It is not known whether Mrs. Seigler will continue the business or close the same out. The business has always proved a prosperous one, and friends are suggesting that she continue it.

JUSTICE COLMAN'S COURT.

Joe. Scarbro Arraigned Upon Charge of Aggravated Assault.

There was an interesting case in Justice Colman's court Monday, being the case of the State vs. Joe. Scarbro, colored, charged with aggravated assault upon the person of George Williams, which it is alleged occurred in the vicinity of the Seaboard Air Line depot Sunday night. It is alleged in the affidavit that Scarbro advanced upon Williams with a knife.

Judge Colman placed the defendant under a bond of $105 for his appearance before the grand jury at the fall term of the circuit court. Baker, Matheson & Baxter, attorneys for the prisoner, endeavored to secure his release under habeas corpus proceedings, but failed, hence he must either give bond or remain in jail.

Sharp End Entered Her Eye, Causing Fracture of Skull, as Reported by Autopsy Held After Body Was Exhumed—Trial at Interlachen.

Walter McNeill, colored, charged with causing the death of his wife by punching her in the eye with the sharp point of an umbrella at Cone's Crossing, Putnam county, on July 4, an account of which has already appeared in The Sun, was given a preliminary hearing before the justice court at Interlachen Saturday, and was committed to jail without bail to await the action of the grand jury of Putnam county at the fall session of the circuit court.

Attorney J. M. Rivers of this city, State attorney for the Eighth Judicial Circuit, was present, and pushed the case for all it was worth.

It will be remembered that McNeill and his wife were on a Fourth of July outing at Cone's Crossing. It is alleged that both were drinking, and they became involved in a difficulty, McNeill punching the woman in the eye with an umbrella.

DEATH OF MR. JONES.

One of Gainesville's Well Known Young Men Passes Away.

Jonas A. Jones, thirty-two years of age, and one of Gainesville's well-known young men, died at 12:45 Monday morning of typhoid fever, after an illness of nearly three weeks.

Deceased was born in the western end of Alachua county, and has been a resident of the county all his life. He moved to Gainesville about six years ago, and for the past four years has been employed as a salesman in the store of J. G. Harrold. He was a moral, upright young man, and was very popular with all who knew him.

Deceased was a member of the Woodmen of the World, where he was also quite popular, being an active and ambitious member of the order. The funeral was held from the residence Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. P. W. Corr of the Baptist church conducted the services at the home, after which Alachua Camp of the Woodmen assumed charge of the ceremonies, and the beautiful and impressive ritual of this order was carried out at the grave.

Deceased is survived by a widow and three small children—two sons and a daughter—to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

That Body Was to Have Met Yesterday, But Quorum Not Present.

The City Council was to have met in adjourned session Monday afternoon to consider and pass upon its third and last reading the ordinance providing for the lateral connections with the sewerage system of the city, but a quorum could not be secured, hence the meeting was postponed until this afternoon.

Owing to the fact that some of the aldermen are absent from the city, it is difficult to secure a quorum at this season of the year, and repeated efforts have been unsuccessful.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

Health Is the First Essential Toward Making a Woman Attractive.

MISS HULDA KUGHLER MISS ELIZABETH WYNN

There is a beauty and attractiveness in health which is far greater than mere regularity of feature.

A sickly, irritable, and complaining woman always carries a cloud of depression with her; she is not only unhappy herself but is a damper to all joy and happiness when with her family and friends.

It is the bright, healthy, vivacious woman who always charms and carries sunshine wherever she goes.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging and that everything tires her; if her feminine system fails to perform its allotted duties, there is nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing-down pains, and irregularities, causing constant misery and melancholia, she should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs will dispel all these troubles. By correcting the cause of the trouble it cures where other treatment may have failed.

Miss Elizabeth Wynn, of No. 305 9th Avenue, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For months I suffered with dreadful headaches, pain in the back and severe hemorrhages. I was weak and out of sorts all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me when all other medicine had failed. It seemed to be just what I needed and quickly restored my health."

Miss Hulda Kughler, of No. 23 West 15th Street, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For months I was ill with an internal trouble. I suffered terrible agony, was nervous, irritable, and sick all the time. I took different medicines without benefit. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and within six months was completely restored to health and I want to recommend it to every suffering woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular functions, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacements, inflammation or ulceration, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, indigestion, or nervous prostration, may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

YOUNG GREEK LAD PROVES A BAD EGG

Has No Respect for His Parent Or Court.

DEFIES THE WHOLE BUSINESS

With a Brick He Swears He Will Kill Father, and When He Appeared in Court Against Parent Acted Rudely and Was Sent to Jail in Contempt.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

A pistol shot about 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, eminating from a room in the opera house block occupied by Alexander Chrisostomidhes, attracted a hundred or more people to the scene within less than five minutes, and for a time excitement reigned among those who were gathered down stairs, but none of whom cared to venture to the room.

Eventually Marshal Arnow arrived on the scene, and, in company with J. F. Smith and one or two others, went to the room of Mr. Chrisostomidhes.

The facts developed that Chrisostomidhes, whose life had been threatened by his son, Alex, Jr., with a brick, had discharged a pistol to frighten the boy away, and that is what caused the excitement.

This story has a most peculiar turn. Everybody who knows anything about Chrisostomidhes and his son knows that there has frequently been trouble between them ever since the father brought the son to this country from the Island of Turque two years ago. There has always existed a friction, and, nothwithstanding that it is said Chrisostomidhes has endeavored to treat his son, who is only sixteen years of age, right, that the son has continually given him trouble. Where the fault lies belongs for the public to judge.

Marshal Arnow placed the father under arrest, and required his appearance at the Mayor's court Monday morning. The father was present at the appointed hour, 9 o'clock, and the son was there to appear as a witness against him. The elder Chrisostomidhes was relating his evidence explaining that the boy had threatened to kill him with a brick if he did not give him money, and that he merely discharged the gun to frighten the boy, who held the brick in his hand, when the boy suddenly arose and began using the most vile language against his parent, calling him all kinds of abusive names, including things that would not do to go in print.

This suddenly ended the proceedings, as Mayor Thomas ordered the discharge of Alexander Chrisostomidhes, Sr., and the arrest of the boy, whom he gave a jail sentence for contempt of court.

Young Chrisostomidhes is now in jail, and will remain there until his sentence has expired. At its expiration he will no doubt leave the city, which would be the best thing, his relatives say, for all concerned.

Young Chrisostomidhes has proven quite a character here. His father brought him to this country for the purpose of educating him, but it was on an average of a fight a day he had at school, where life was a burden to him and those whom he had to oppose. His disposition does not seem of the most even temperament, with the result that he is continually in some kind of trouble.

WILL SOON BEGIN PAVING.

O. Petre Will Begin Work on East Main Street as Soon as Possible.

O. Petre, who has the contract for paving East Main street N. with the same material as is used on West Liberty street, leading to the University, expects to begin his work as soon as the lateral sewerage connections are made, which will be done as soon as the ordinance requiring same is passed by the council.

Mr. Petre states that he expects to do an extra fine job on this work, as the supply of rock which has accumulated while he has been waiting is choice, and he proposes to give the people a pavement that will last almost a lifetime.

The Gainesville National.

The Gainesville National Bank, the new financial institution which is destined to bring a great many more depositors to this city, threw open its doors for business Monday, and the first day's work was very encouraging to those in charge.

This institution, which starts out with a capital stock of $100,000, is one of the strongest banks in this section of the country, and is managed by conservative financiers and business men who are bound to make the same a success.

While it will be the purpose of the officers and directors of this bank to be as liberal as possible, at the same time they propose to be conservative, which is best and safest for the interest of the depositors and stockholders alike.

SHERIFF BENNETT TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Shot Himself in Right Temple at His Home in Starke.

JUST HOME FROM ALABAMA

Wrote Several Notes During His Absence, Which Showed That He Had Deliberately Planned to Take His Own Life—Well Known Here.

Monday's Times-Union has the following telegram from Starke, which will be of interest to many people of this section, as deceased was well known:

"This place was shocked as never before when it was learned that at 1 o'clock this morning J. P. Bennett, sheriff of Bradford county, had committed suicide at his home by shooting himself in the right temple, death having been almost instantaneous. The sheriff had just returned from a trip to Mobile, Ala., where he went for some parties.

"The following letters or notes in envelopes show that he fully premeditated the act:

"First, written at Pensacola: 'My wife's name is Evelyn Bennett, Starke, Fla. Notify her and she will send me home.'

"Second: 'My Dear Wife—You have always been good to me. Collect what is due me; pay N. T. Ritch what I am due him. J. P. B.'

"Third: 'I decided to wait until I got home. Goodby.'

"There are many conjectures as to why he committed this rash act, but it is generally conceded that his inability to let liquor alone had much to do with it.

"Mr. Bennett was born and raised in Bradford county and has been honored by the people by his election to the office of tax collector and then to sheriff. Certainly it must have been despondency.

"He was buried at Crosby's cemetery this afternoon by the Odd Fellows, with an escort from the Masonic fraternity, both orders of which he was a member.

"He leaves a wife and two daughters, who have the full sympathy of the people generally."

All Republicans are not grafters, but about all the grafters are Republicans, who have doubtless been induced to become such by the corrupting system of protective tariffs and combines.

The State Fair will be held in Tampa from February 3rd to 28th. It is generally conceded that this is a much better time of the year for a show than in the fall, especially for as citrus fruits are concerned.

The Melbourne Times says "the increased cost of living has made our old gold coin a 50-cent dollar; in fact it is not more than 40 cents." Correct you are, Brother Ochesenkilly when it comes to buying anything in this section.

The Pensacola News says the other aspirants for United States Senator will unite to support Senator Mallory if he will announce himself. He announced some months since, and has not seen any communications from him to the contrary.

The Northwestern Miller says it is admitted that the Government crop reports are worthless. Then why do the Republican Congressmen representing the wheat region vote to pay the worthless reports, or artificially for their betterment, as the Democratic Congressmen of the cotton states are trying to reform the cotton statistics.

Robert Williamson, editor of The Jacksonville Floridian, does not seem to have a very exalted opinion of United States District Attorney Sheppard, who is being pushed forward as a successor to the late Judge Locke. Albert is pretty well acquainted with the public men of this state, and we had rather take his opinion regarding Sheppard than that of some others who have endorsed him for this life position.

A member of the City Council is reported to have said that he cares nothing for the opinion of lawyers, and that the ordinances would not be published, no matter how many lawyers said the law required it. All the Sun has to say in reply is, that the banks are taking a big risk in advancing money on city certificates, under the circumstances, and that the Board of Public Works will have to go to law to collect certain claims for street improvements.

The clash between the Federal and State courts in North Carolina over the enforcement of the 2½-cent passenger fare law is another phase of the irrepressible conflict between Federal and State authority. That conflict is as old as our history. Steadily through the years the National authority has been accumulating power, while the power of the several States has been declining, but the fight still keeps up. The great controversy which preceded the adoption of the United States constitution between the Federal and the State parties is still going on.

KEY WEST ALARMED.

The people of Key West are much alarmed at the suspension of work on the Key West end of the extension of the Florida East Coast railway, but The Daily Citizen of the Island City expresses a confidence that the road will be built through as originally intended. It says:

"It is a matter of sincere regret that it was found necessary to suspend the work on this end of the extension as stated in our issue of Saturday, and it is hoped that whatever obstacles may be responsible for this action will be speedily removed.

"The cessation of the work at this time will naturally give rise to much apprehension and all sorts of rumors, but in the interest of this city we should not allow this temporary setback to interfere with our plans for progress.

"It is unreasonable to suppose that the stopping of the work will be more than temporary. Aside from the immense amount of money already expended here, Mr. Flagler's ambition to complete the grand work in building this extension would undoubtedly cause him to do it regardless of any minor obstacles he may meet. That obstacles would be met in such a stupendous undertaking must have been foreseen by him from the beginning and he is unquestionably prepared to meet them.

"We have the utmost faith in Mr. Flagler and our people should not worry about the completion of the railroad. Mr. Flagler has said he would build it into Key West and has given abundant evidence that he will make good his word. And Henry M. Flagler is not a quitter."

The Sun's information regarding the cessation of work on the Key West end of the extension is that it has been caused on account of some misunderstanding with the National authorities. It is confidently hoped, however, that all differences will soon be amicably adjusted and the work resumed and pushed rapidly to completion.

BLACK SOLDIERS IN DISFAVOR.

There has been such a revival of race prejudice in this country of late that no movement of negro troops takes place without protests from the people among whom they are to be quartered.

When it is considered that we have had negro regiments for more than a generation and that no one has made serious objection to them until recently, it will have to be admitted that no great progress has been made in settling the problem which brought this organization into existence.

Colored troops have given a good account of themselves under many trying circumstances. They have marched and fought well in the deserts of the Southwest, in the rugged mountains of the North, in Cuba and in the Philippines. It is only in time of peace, when the social factor seems to be taken into account, that they are looked upon with disfavor.

All this may be natural and inevitable, but if we are to have black regiments in war we must have them in peace, and make the best of them. —New York World.

This shows that the tension between the races is growing stronger. Just after the close of the Civil war there were a number of negro regiments stationed in this State, and in one place we remember when they were about to be removed, the merchants got up a petition asking that they be allowed to remain. But in no town in the South would their presence be wanted now on any consideration, and the same sentiment is manifesting itself in the North, as is shown by the recent protest that has gone up from the citizens of Watertown, N. Y.

The negro is not conducting himself in freedom as those who fought for his emancipation had fondly dreamed.

When he was a slave he was looked upon as a protection, now he is regarded as a menace.—Ocala Banner.

SUAVITER IN MODO.

The New York Evening Post is always very respectful to the President. It is somewhat English, you know. Ordinarily it thinks the King can do no wrong. But it hints that the President is playing double in the Japanese matter for campaign purposes. It says: "One of the most unpleasant features of the whole affair is the strange course of the administration. If our President were, on his own confession, anything but the sincerest and squarest of men, we should be troubled by the apparent duplicity of the statement made in his name. On Tuesday last his private secretary gave an official dementi to the rumors that a squadron of battleships was to be sent to the Pacific. You may say that the President has not even considered the advisability of sending any ships to the Pacific. Two days later this became a 'possible' cruise to the Pacific, but not 'at once.' After that came Secretary Metcalf's announcement in California that the battleships were to go directly to the Pacific, and that the plans for the movement had been made long before in Washington. All this may be firm and wise and consistent statesmanship, but anyone can see how deplorably it lends itself to the brawling of the sensational newspapers. Considering the very bad impression made both at home and abroad, we think that the commander-in-chief of the navy ought to revoke his order—or, if necessary, give out a new version of what he had always intended to do."

REPUBLICAN DEFEAT PREDICTED

John S. Wise, one of the most eminent Southern Republicans, but now residing in New York, made an address lately before the Maryland Bar Association on "Centralization by Construction." He said President Roosevelt's attempt to broaden Federal power by interpretation is to make an "India-rubber Constitution," and declared that the doctrine of Federal power, increased by construction under the plea of changed conditions, is the most insidious and dangerous heresy brought before the people of America. But then John S. Wise belongs to the old Lincoln school of politics that is entirely outrun by the strenuous type of Republicans of today. The speeches of President Roosevelt, said Mr. Wise, indicate a singular ignorance of the boundary line between Federal and State powers, and he predicted that the people would not uphold a party which advocated Federal or State aggression.

Republicans who think as Mr. Wise does must needs come over to the Democracy, and will undoubtedly do so if wisdom is shown in platform declarations and selection of candidates.

The Alachua Post charges the county commissioners with discriminating against the county in favor of Gainesville in constructing hard roads. The commissioners have done nothing of the kind, and The Post cannot substantiate any such charge. Four members of the board are from the country districts to only one from Gainesville, and they have worked together in harmony for the best interests of the entire county. A large proportion of the work done on roads leading from this city has been done by private subscription, as has also been the case in the Micanopy district, and if other sections of the county would follow the example of these two districts they would be better off. Owing to the lack of funds in the past, it has been the policy of the commissioners to help those sections where the people would lend financial aid to construct hard roads, but now that the road fund is in better shape, thanks to the last Legislature, the commissioners will push the work of constructing hard roads just as rapidly as they possibly can, all sections being treated alike as best tends to promote the public interest. The proximity of suitable material has to be taken into consideration in constructing hard roads, as it would be the heighth of folly to commence the construction of a road miles away from where the material is to be had and work towards the base of supply, instead of from such base. Such waste of time and money might serve to pacify a few individuals, but the commissioners wisely consider it their duty to act for the best interests of the whole people, not to humor a few disgruntled persons.

There is a tolerably unanimous failure throughout the South to either get excited or enthusiastic over the war screams of a certain section of the yellow press. It is not that the South is not patriotic. If the time comes when there is something doing in the war line, either with the Orient or any other part of the world, the South will be found holding down its end of the job. That the South could fight and would fight was abundantly and sorrowfully proven during the Civil war, and the united country will probably not get over paying pensions for that object lesson in two generations. That the South was still able bodied and willing was also shown in the Spanish war, though that did not amount to much. But as to the talk of war with Japan, the South fails to be interested. There is nothing in the situation to warrant war talk. The situation, such as it is, is not one that wars are made out of. Further, the South has a valuable and growing trade with the Orient that it does not want to see disturbed for the benefit of a few newspapers who make a living out of half-page scare headlines. Southern cotton mills and unbleached piece goods for the benighted heathen are absorbing topics enough for the South just now. When there is a real occasion for war talk it will begin to take an interest.

The Waters-Pierce Oil Company is in imminent danger of a fine of $1,500,000 in Texas. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana may get fined to the tune of $29,000,000 before Judge Landis in Chicago. There are many more subsidiary companies of the Standard company in different States and any or all of them are liable to come in for similar fines for wilful and persistent violation of State and Federal laws. Of course the Standard with its confessed annual dividend of 40 per cent and over can stand a large number of such fines. But there comes a time when even its immense resources must feel the drain. Would it not be better for all concerned if the immense corporation came in and surrendered and lived henceforth somewhere within the limits of fair play and decency? It would still make enough money to enable all its directors to keep steam yachts and the public would be the infinite beneficiaries. It looks as though the trust-fighting problem were coming within sight of a finish and it would seem sensible for the magnates to surrender while they can still be granted the honors of war.

Governor Broward has appointed a commission to locate and carry to St. Augustine the remains of Ponce de Leon. Unless we are greatly mistaken this is going to be worse than a search for a needle in a hay-stack, but we hope they will be recovered and rest in St. Augustine forever.—Miami Metropolis.

In the "Lime"-Light.

Dr. J. H. Rowe has the champion lime tree of Florida. It has set its fourth crop. Every limb of the tree is well filled; but strange to say, at the very tip end of the branches they are in clusters like grapefruit. The present crop is estimated at $25, to say nothing about what was sold through the fall, winter and spring. The tree is at least fifteen feet in diameter. It will have to be staked to keep the limbs from falling off.—St. Petersburg Independent.

A Pipe Dream.

The Everglades have been industriously exploited as the star sugar farm of the world after drainage and the other preliminary steps have been taken, but Editor Harris, of The Ocala Banner, pierces the future with prophetic eye and sees a noble city rising from that mysterious swamp which, before he is called home, will be larger than either Jacksonville or Tampa. There's an optimist for you! Or would you call that a Venetian pipe dream with gondola trimmings? We hope that Editor Harris may live forever, and we suspect that he will have to pretty nearly do so in order to see his vision realized.—Live Oak Democrat.

Enough to Give One the Jim-Jams.

Everyone who has ridden on a railroad has seen how furiously the country dog will chase the passing train. He chases it as if his very life depended on it. And the question has often been asked: "What would the dog do with it if he were to catch it?"

We are reminded of this incident by the conspiracy Mr. L'Engle claims was concocted to catch him. If the conspirators had caught him, then what?

Would it have put Peter O. Knight in virtual control of the Legislature? Would Governor Broward have lost his nerve and capitulated?

What great and ugly things did "Little Peter" have up his sleeve, and what would have happened?

This thing of guessing and conjecturing is enough to give one the jim-jams.—Ocala Banner.

The Whole Cheese.

The Telegraph stated last week that Editor L'Engle of The Tallahassee Sun was afflicted with egotism. The point of the statement is illustrated in the great expose contained in the current issue of his journal. In the course of the story he takes occasion to describe his four leading characters. They are the Governor of the State, a well-known attorney, the editor of one of the leading daily papers of the State and HIMSELF. He covered the Governor's virtues in 50 words, dismissed the lawyer and the editor in 70 and 53 words respectively, but found it necessary to use up 200 words to give the public any adequate conception of the wonderful importance of HIMSELF. He concluded HIS laudation of HIMSELF with these dreadfully sanguinary words, "No man who would fight to the hilt and trace a cross mark with the last drop." Isn't it dreadful to think we have such a "bad-un" liging in our midst?—Starke Telegraph.

Mallory the Man.

The Manatee Record observes that "Senator Mallory doesn't seem to be worried much about his seat in the Senate. He continues to saw wood while the boys do the wind work."

Senator Mallory is not given to worrying, and he knows that in his two terms as Senator he has zealously done his duty, as he always has done in public life, without any hooray, or brass bands or press agents, relying on his work for his record and, perhaps, a little too much, on the public knowing what he does for the State.

There is about him a certain reserve that prevents him from going out of the way to proclaim his services. It has often been said of him that this is bad politics. Perhaps so, but it gives him that much more time for his duties, and in his case, at least, has made him that much more valuable to the people, whom he trusts because he has served them always with an eye single to their welfare, however powerful the enemies he has made or may make.

In the State Legislature, in Congress and in the United States Senate, he has uniformly proved himself not only a valuable servant, but one of the highest type that a republic can produce. He is equally incapable of subterfuge or truckling, to high or low, to private or public, and the success that has been his in public life has been, to an extent, true of very few men, due to his splendid ability and his exceptional integrity.—Pensacola Journal.

IN JUDGE MASON'S COURT.

D. E. Godwin received a go-cart by freight a few weeks ago and the same came damaged. Mr. Godwin refused to accept the cart and put in a claim for same. The Seaboard refused to pay the claim and Mr. Godwin entered suit in Judge Mason's court against the company for damages. The case was postponed until Friday morning at 9 o'clock, when it will come up for trial.

PRISONER SET FIRE TO THE CITY JAIL

Charged With Setting Fire to the Houses in Frog Alley.

HUGHES AN OLD OFFENDER

Similar Action in Jacksonville Caused Death of Fellow Prisoner—Sent to Asylum But Returned to Gainesville.

John Hughes, a negro painter well known in Gainesville, having been arrested here, was arrested Tuesday on suspicion of having set fire to the houses destroyed by fire in Frog Alley early Monday morning.

Hughes was incarcerated in the calaboose, and Tuesday night Officer Kite was notified that the prisoner had set fire to the city prison. Before the officer reached the jail, however, Hughes, through the means of a bottle of water which had been left with him, subdued the flames.

He was arraigned before Justice Colson yesterday, but owing to the fact that the prisoner had himself put out the fire the charge of incendiary could not be sustained, and he was discharged.

An Old Offender.

It is the general opinion that Hughes could not escape by means of cutting a hole through the wall of the jail and became alarmed and extinguished the flames. He set fire to the jail while in prison in Jacksonville a few years ago and a fellow prisoner was so badly burned that he died. Hughes was sent to the asylum after trial but finally returned to Gainesville. He is not regarded as a sane man and should not be permitted to run at large.

JUDGE COLMAN'S COURT.

Mr. McLendon Charges Henry McCoy With Larceny.

Mr. McLendon had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of one Henry McCoy for taking some old clothes from his house. It seems as though McCoy had been rooming with McLendon and working for him also. There arose some dispute about a settlement and McCoy was told to leave the house. It developed in court that McCoy had carried some clothes away with him that belonged to "Chief" McLendon. Chief had McCoy arrested, but the defendant claimed that he had returned the clothes to McLendon, as they had simply been taken through mistake. Both sides had a good story, but after hearing the evidence together the court decided that there was no evidence to convict McCoy of larceny, as he admitted that he carried the clothes away, but said it was through mistake and returned them.

DEATH OF W. A. HARMAN.

Passed Away at Odd Fellows' Sanitarium Wednesday Morning.

W. A. Harman, after an illness of more than two weeks, died at the Odd Fellows' Home Wednesday morning. Mr. Harman came to Gainesville in April and was expecting to make his home in Florida. He had visited several towns in the State, was most pleased with Gainesville and had decided to make this city his home. Deceased was a brother-in-law of Mr. C. Spencer of this city. He was born in Jefferson, Ohio, and would have been 34 years old today. He was a splendid young man and had a bright future before him.

Deceased leaves a wife, two children and a mother to mourn his loss. The Sun extends sympathy to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

Wreck on Seaboard at Hampton.

There was a wreck on the Seaboard Air Line at Hampton yesterday which delayed the noon train several hours. The passenger train was wrecked and blocked the main track so that the train for Tampa had to go via Lake City to Sampson city and then to Jacksonville and Tampa via Gainesville, from which it went to Waldo and continued its regular route. All stations were notified the train was delayed about two hours. There was no one hurt in the wreck, however, and in a few hours track was cleared and the Jacksonville-Key train came through.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

Dr. J. W. McCollum and wife, who are spending several weeks at Passover, Ga., write that they have both been quite sick, but are feeling better now and think that the trip will prove very beneficial to them. They will leave in a few days for Raburn Gap, Raburn county, Ga.

J. W. Barwick of Tampa has been in the city for the past several days. Mr. Barwick has traveled a great deal and says he has never seen an inland town with which he was more favorably impressed than he is with Gainesville. He seriously contemplates locating here, and in case he does so he will engage in a business which will greatly redound to the benefit of Alachua county.

John Owens, a former Gainesville boy, and at one time an employ of The Sun office, was in the city yesterday from Jacksonville. He is now running as conductor of a freight train on the Atlantic Coast Line between Jacksonville and Newberry. Johnnie's old friends are glad to learn that he is doing well and trust that he will continue on the road to promotion in his chosen avocation.

Mr. John Draudy and Miss Dosha Johns were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Wm. Johns of Graham, Judge Dekle of Starke officiating.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Johns, and Mr. Draudy is to be congratulated upon winning such an accomplished young lady for his wife.

Mr. Draudy is the son of a wealthy farmer of Lake Butler and a nice young man.

After congratulations the bride and groom left for their future home at Lake Butler.

A number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, and all wish them a long and happy life.

J. W. Malphurs' Patent.

J. W. Malphurs of this city has secured a patent which may make a rich man of him some day, as it is regarded by railroad men who have seen it to be absolutely the safest and best thing on the market.

This patent is in the nature of an automatic cap coupler, so arranged that it never fails, and will never part until released by a lever.

Mr. Malphurs has the model, which works like a charm. He has been offered a thousand dollars for the patent, but refused, because he feels sure that it is a coming fortune for him.

Death List Reaches 32.

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—Banner Higgins, aged 29, of Ionia, Mich., one of the injured in the Pere Marquette wreck at Salem, Mich., on Saturday, died late Sunday night at St. Mary's hospital, bringing the total number of dead up to 32.

MISCONCEPTION OF THE SOUTH

Won't See Us As We Are, But Stick to Black Mammy Period.

DO NOT SEE TRUE PICTURES

Southern Cities Have Their Waterways Where Pure Water Comes From Artesian Wells—Death Rate of Florida Cities Low.

Walter Page, in a recent article in The World's Work, among other things says:

"It would be an incalculable gain if men's conception of the South—especially of the lowland South—would now be made anew and made directly from facts, not from traditions or old memories. The tourists see post-card pictures of old 'mammies' (the 'mammy' is practically a defunct institution), of an old negro man in rags driving an ox, of a little grinning Sambo eating a watermelon, of a former slave cabin, and the like. The railroads run, of course, along the barrenest ridges of land, for good engineering reasons, and the tourist hotels keep the grotesque things in sight. The literature of the era of slavery, or of the era of war, or the romances which have to do with these periods; and the people of the best-known books about the South are either the heroes of aristocratic origin, or the poor devils whose origin was unknown. Some of the Southern folks themselves, too, think of the land and of themselves, and of other folk, less by fact than by traditions, most of which are exaggerated and some of which are altogether untrue.

"The effect of these ludicrous misconceptions is a real hindrance to knowledge and a check to growth. Most persons, for example, think of the South Atlantic coast cities as unhealthful. They will recall yellow fever epidemics, forgetting that yellow fever has now no more terrors for the South than smallpox has for the North. They think of bad water. Yet Jacksonville, Fla., for instance, has its waterworks in the very heart of the city, where the supply comes from artesian wells, and its death rate (of the whites) is among the lowest of cities of the United States. The same freedom from disease is found in Savannah, and, indeed in most of the coast cities.

In Swell Streets.

"So, too, of the people as well as of the places. While men elsewhere have been talking and writing of 'crackers' and 'poor white trash,' the sons of the people that they have been writing about have built fine residences on the 'swell' streets of every Southern city. They are manufacturers and bankers and the leaders of great enterprises; or they are the owners of cotton farms, or of cabbage farms, or of lettuce farms, or of lumber mills, and of everything else that denotes prosperity. The sons of some of the men who were rich generations ago, are also, of course, doing similar tasks. The point is that the Southern man or the Southern land of the old books and of the romances is now not representative and is, in fact, often hard to find.

"'I am tired of the incredulity of men,' said a long-time resident of Florida—a man who went there from Iowa many years ago. 'When I go to see my old kinspeople they expect me to talk about alligators and chills and fever. I never see an alligator except the little ones that are caught for the tourists, and I have never had chills and fever, nor any other illness since I left Iowa. I have an artesian well and my home is drained—as many homes in Iowa are not. Chicago has more sunstrokes in one summer, I venture to say, than Florida has had since the white man first came here. And there are better roads about this town and more automobiles than in any town of the same size in Iowa.'

"Sanitation and intensive culture of the soil and the general organization of the industry by modern methods have, of course, brought changes so rapidly in the seaboard South—in those communities where there has been a modern organization—that the changes are well nigh incredible. And they run through the whole range of life—from every-day work to the very soul and west of man's thought and character."

Result of Strenuous Work During Campaign for Re-Election.

HAD VERY HARD FIGHT

But Won Out After One of the Most Exciting Contests Ever Witnessed in Deep Water City—Was Very Aggressive.

Pensacola, Fla., July 24.—Charles H. Bliss, mayor of Pensacola, died at 3 o'clock this morning.

Mayor Bliss was re-elected last month, after one of the most exciting municipal campaigns in the history of the city. His work in the contest caused a physical breakdown that resulted in a complication of diseases, from which he could not recover. The funeral will take place on next Friday.

Mayor Bliss during his first administration proved to be an admirable chief executive. His aggressiveness and his strenuous advocacy of certain reforms caused him to incur the enmity of certain people, but all agree that he worked for what he conceived to be to the best interests of the city.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

Don't keep your kisses for the cold and pallid cheek. There is no feeling in the shadows of the tomb. It's too late.

A certain man came across his friend and asked: "Can your wife keep a secret?" "I don't know. She never tried," replied the wag.

The memory of "the good-night kiss" in the stormy years which may be in store for your little one will be like a far-off, steady star to guide them. "My father, my mother—loved me!" Lips all fever-parched will become dewey again when the tender memory rushes over them in after years. Kiss your child before he goes to sleep. The hour may come when you would give the world's gold just to touch those ruby lips once more.

I have known of men who refused to stand by another in an unfortunate hour. They preferred waiting to see how the charge turned out—true or false—on this changing tide of public opinion they are willing to rest their devotion. Repudiate him forever! The friend that forsook in the evil hour is unworthy of your trust when life runs smoothly. It breaks a bond for which there is no welding. They are frozen vipers warmed by your own heart-blood. They repay by the burial of their fangs in the heart that once blessed them. You don't need a friend behind whose fawning smiles there slumbers the possibility of a forsaking. Stand by the suffering heart—be that suffering just or wrong. There is nothing that so clearly marks the really heroic.

To the Teachers and School Officers of Florida:

For fourteen years I have given freely of my time in an effort to maintain a creditable school journal for the teachers of Florida. U. S. LIFE SAVERS AT EXPOSITION

Grand Stand Overlooking Boush Creek Crowded By Spectators.

AN INTERESTING SPECTACLE

Surfmen Run Their Life Boats Into the Sea and Hasten Out to a Wrecked Schooner on the Bar and Rescue Sailors from Rigging.

Jamestown Exposition, Va., July 22.—The daily drills and exhibitions which are being given by the United States Life Saving station at the Jamestown Exposition are attracting much attention. Every day the grand stand overlooking Boush creek, an arm of Hampton Roads, where the exhibitions are given, is thronged with interested spectators watching the surfmen run their life boats into the sea, hasten out to a wrecked schooner lying on a bar, and by means of life buoys rescue the sailors from the rigging.

In these exhibitions the various styles of buoys, life cannon, life boats and rocket projectiles are shown. The first part of the drill consists of a life boat practice, in which self-righting boats and those with double bottoms and air compartments are used by the men.

Under the direction of Captain H. S. Cleary, one of the most skilled men in the service, the boats are run out of their house on carriages, launched and put through various maneuvers. Of course all the surfmen are expert swimmers. A number of manikins could not be more at home in the water, and their diving, utter fearlessness and strength in swimming have attracted wide-spread admiration.

Even to those wholly ignorant of the ways of the sea, a visit to the station is of the greatest interest. There one will see the different kinds of cannon used in shooting life lines over storm-tossed vessels; one will see the appliances now in use in this country and in the principal European countries; there are cases filled with projectiles which have been shot out to distress ships, each shot bearing the date of its use, the locality of the wreck and the number of the people brought ashore on the line which followed it; and then one will see the men themselves, brown with the tan of the sun and wind and the salt spray, jolly with many a yarn to spin, but men who are prepared to brave the heaviest sea, many having done so on numerous occasions, to carry aid to storm-beaten and sinking ships.

Ditching on Sewer Work Completed.

Contractor Beeman has completed all of the ditching on the Gainesville sewer work and has his force engaged making the proper connections. This has proven a big job, but Contractor Beeman has been equal to the occasion. He had many hardships to overcome. First he struck the wet season and labored at a great disadvantage, then he could not get his material delivered by the railroad companies, and lately he has experienced all kinds of trouble with labor, but the job has at last been completed.

When Mr. Beeman turns it over to the city, Gainesville will have as complete a system as any city the same size in the United States.

Notice.

Take notice that I will on the first Thursday of November, 1907, or as soon thereafter as I may be heard, apply for a pardon for Gus Mashby, who was convicted at the Spring term of the Circuit Court of Alachua county, Fla., in 1905, of murder. Anyone desiring may then be heard on the merits of the application.

Attorney for Petitioner.

GIRL BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Sight of Eye Destroyed by Disease—Tried Five Doctors but Grew Worse—In Agony Eight Months—Parents Discouraged, Until They Tried Cuticura Remedies

IN ONE WEEK ALL SORES DISAPPEARED

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema or that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow, greenish sore. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we 'phoned for doctor No. 3. He came over and looked her over and said that he could not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we went to Oswego to doctor No. 4, and he said the eyesight was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment, so I went and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed great improvement, and in one week all sores had disappeared. Of course it could not restore the eyesight, but if we had used Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eye. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 9, Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., August 17, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. When the Mint is in the Julep.

When the mint is in the julep an' the hammock's swingin' right
'Neath the shady oaks, a hidin' of the summer sun from sight,
Oh, it's then you're seein' visions of the valleys of delight,
When the mint is in the julep an' the hammock's swingin' right!

The trees around you bowin with a drowsy "howdy-do,"
An' the wind that waves the branches sayin' dreamy things to you;
An' you hear the ice a-clickin' in the goblet, sparklin' bright,
When the mint is in the julep an' the hammock's swingin' right!

Then life seems worth the livin,' an' old Trouble's on the shelf,
An' you feel that you're a-lovin' of neighbors as yourself;
Ain't it joy amazin,' colonel? Ain't this old world out o' sight

Enough Said.

Some Lively Old Citizens.

The Whitsett Courier has these interesting "personals":

"Aunt Sally will celebrate her 84th year with a quilting bee next Thursday."

"One of the oldest subscribers has just taken to himself a wife at the age of 98. We wish the happy couple many years of wedded bliss."

"Uncle Billy—as we call him—who is 105 years old, was in our midst Wednesday, looking for a birthday present for his youngest daughter, aged 67."

"Driven to it?"

An old darkey was arrested for stealing a silver dollar. The dollar was found on his person and produced in court.

"I owns up ter stealin' it, jedge," he said, "but de Lawd knows I wuz driv ter it!"

"Driven to it?"

"Yes, suh. Dat dollar had a bird on it en it look so much lak' a game chicken dat I thought I wuz in a henroos', en des nachully bagged it!"

Summer Notes from Billville.

The prospect in this settlement looks dry enough to make a sunbeam set the world on fire.

We didn't see a single sea serpent at the seashore; but some of our citizens carried a few snakes there in their boots; so we felt quite at home.

We were about to give a barbecue to the Georgia Legislature, until we discovered that it had made up its mind to roast the whole State.

When lightning hit the new church steeple, during the prayer meeting hour, the preacher warned the sinners present that it was the devil trying to blaze the way for 'em to the brimstone regions.

Billville is getting ready to sell spiked watermelon juice.

Why should we tackle the water-cure again when we've been cured of water too long to talk about?

A literary barbecue was given on Wednesday last, and our leading poets descended from the stars and devoured six cows.

One of the ancient antis says that prohibition in Billville will be all "moonshine."

Water was the only thing that Adam had, but judging by the trouble he got into he must have had water on the brain.

Our preacher omitted the usual sermon Sunday. He said the weather was so hot the sinners knew what was ahead of them.

Billville must have lost hope. The following advertisement appears in The Banner:

"For Sale—Six acres in Mint and two Moonshine Distilleries that ain't never been levied on by the Government."

"The hot literary supper was a great success. Food alone was discussed, and the supper ended with the singing of the celebrated hymn, 'When Shall We Eat Again?'"

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Considering how personally profitable foreign wars have been in the careers of the late police commissioner of New York, one need not wonder at the evidence of the preparations now being made to jingo a successor to Mr. Roosevelt into the Presidency in 1908.

The Sub-School District Election.

Very little interest was manifested in the election in the Gainesville sub-tax school district yesterday. In fact, had it not been for the efforts of Supt. J. L. Kelley it is doubtful if the polls would have been opened. He finally obtained the consent of D. A. Robertson to act as clerk and Z. T. Taylor and A. F. Harrod as inspectors, who opened the polls and conducted the most quiet election ever held in Gainesville. The election was for the trustees and to fix the millage to be levied for the next two years. There was no opposition to the present incumbents, Messrs. W. W. Hampton, G. W. Hyde and J. H. Vidal, and they were re-elected, the latter two receiving 34 votes each and the former 33. The levy of three mills, which has heretofore prevailed, was adopted for the next two years.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

The Harriman Report a Matter of Practical Politics.

NOT LIKELY TO BE PROSECUTED

Matters May Be Allowed to Drag Until Statute of Limitation Applies. Southern People Manifest Little Interest in Government Jobs.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., July 22.—In spite of all that his been said to the contrary, the question of whether or not E. H. Harriman shall be subjected to Federal prosecution for his railroad manipulations is largely a matter of practical politics. The long expected report of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Harriman investigation has been rendered and is now in the hands of the President at Oyster Bay. This report is most of it old matter, with which the public is familiar through much newspaper discussion. It goes into the inflation of the Alton securities, the lease of the San Pedro Road, the control of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific by the same management, although they have been decided to be competing lines, and various other incursions of the Harriman financiers into the joint realms of railroads and politics. The report makes but one practical recommendation, and that is that a railroad should be prohibited by law from purchasing the securities of another railroad. This was Mr. Harriman's method whereby he was gradually absorbing all the railroad systems of the West and by which he hoped eventually to bring all the railroads of the United States under a single management. The report of the commission goes into detail over all these transactions and speaks in scathing terms of many of the practices. But the word "prosecution" is not once mentioned in the report, and the whole thing is left to the Attorney-General for treatment or not, as he deems advisable. There has been considerable criticism of this report and it has been commented upon as weak-kneed and ineffective. There was quite as much discussion in the commission as outside as to whether any definite recommendation should be made looking to either criminal or civil prosecution. Frank B. Kellogg, the special attorney of the commission, who practically wrote the report, was much in favor of prosecution; so was Commissioner Judson Clements. It was understood that Commissioner Clark was also in favor of prosecution and Commissioner Lane was wavering; but after almost innumerable conferences and weeks of delay, the report was written simply as an exhibit, without recommendation except in regard to the purchase of securities mentioned. Now it is known that Attorney-Geenral Bonaparte is rather in favor of proseting Mr. Harriman. He made this plain at the famous trust prosecution conference, held at the White House just before the President went away for the summer. But there is too much at stake in the political line to make prosecution advisable just now. It is highly probable that the matter will be allowed to rest without action until close to the time that some of the acts will be out-lawed by the statute of limitations. Then there may be action, but it will depend largely on the political situation..

Civil Service Commissioner McIlheny has just returned from a trip through the South, where he has been endeavoring to interest the public in the civil service as a life career for young men. He has delivered a number of lectures before the Young Men's Christian associations and Southern colleges and other educational institutions. The civil service is decidedly short of men competent to take the lower clerical positions. People in the South have shown little inclination to select Government work as even a temporary calling; much less has there been any inclination either North or South to make the civil service a life career. It has been looked on more as a stepping-stone to some better employment, and this is quite natural in view of the fact that Government salaries are not large, considering the expense of living in Washington. The lower places in the service are badly enough paid, but when it comes to higher positions requiring technical training, it is hard for the Government to get good men and absolutely impossible to keep them, if they show exceptional ability and any private firm happens to want their services. The commission believes that by arousing interest in the South it will be able to swell its eligible list, but it is generally conceded that there will have to be further inducements offered, both in the line of salary and pension retirement, before the civil service in this country can be ranked as a life career as it is abroad.

Advices to the State Department from the Hague indicate that there is little probability of action on the so-called Drago Doctrine at the present session of the Peace Conference. Strangely enough, some of the strongest opponents of action in this line are the South American Republics themselves. The Drago Doctrine, it will be remembered, is a sort of supplement to the Monroe Doctrine. Its gist is a prohibition against the collection of debts from any of the South American Republics by armed European forces. Of course, such a doctrine is distinctly distasteful to European powers; but objection is made also by some of the South American Republics that it would hurt their national credit and handicap them in borrowing money abroad. On the other hand, this Government takes the view that foreigners who lend money at exorbitant rates of interest on questionable security to South American governments should be prepared to take their own risk and not rely on making the warships of their home country debt collecting agents abroad.
